

Action Plan

In accordance with the foundation document of the Group, the following action plan is defined as guidance:

1. The first phase of the Group is to build a knowledge base on the dynamics of the systems of interest. This should result from collecting new or previous works and publishing them in the form of working papers.
2. When conditions permit, the Group shall draw relevant generalizations on the nature of the systems studied as well as on the methodology used. This phase shall also include the identification of patterns and requirements regarding Sustainable Development.
3. With enough momentum through R&D projects and/or networking, the Group shall be able to lead methodological and technological advances in Sustainable Development worldwide.
4. Finally, with adequate maturity, the Group should be able to issue recommendations for best practice in Sustainable Development, alone or jointly with other key institutions.
